

Making the Case For Prosecution of Fetal Body Parts Traffickers

THE LAW OF LIFE SUMMIT

LAWLIFE.ORG

Catherine Glenn Foster, J.D., M.A.

Senior Fellow in Legal Policy

Catherine Glenn Foster is an attorney in private practice. She is a former litigation counsel with Alliance Defending Freedom at its Washington, D.C., Regional Service Center, where she was a key member of its Life Litigation Team to protect the sanctity of human life.

Foster earned her J.D. at Georgetown University Law Center and also holds a M.A. in French from the University of South Florida and a B.A. in History and French from Berry College. She is admitted to the bar in Virginia. Her writing has appeared in numerous publications, including The Federalist, The Washington Examiner, Townhall.com, American Thinker and many more. She has worked on topics from euthanasia and assisted suicide to abortion and maternal health, health and safety regulations, conscience protections, and constitutional aspects of the right to life.

<https://lozierinstitute.org>

Steve H. Aden

Senior Counsel, Director of the Center for Life Alliances

Alliance Defending Freedom

A champion for life, Aden has worked closely with the attorneys general of numerous states, winning key decisions against Planned Parenthood and other abortion proponents. As lead counsel on behalf of the Missouri health director in Planned Parenthood v. Missouri Health Department, he secured the state's right to regulate chemical abortion and provide basic health and safety standards for abortion sellers. In Planned Parenthood v. Horne, he successfully argued that the Arizona State Constitution does not contain a "fundamental right to abortion" and secured protections both for parents of young girls who are considering abortion and for the conscience rights of healthcare workers. Aden also served as counsel to the Louisiana health director, turning back a pro-abortion legal attack on the authority of the state to close the most dangerous abortion clinics. These rulings have ended abortion at numerous clinics, saving many lives.

Aden earned his J.D. in 1989 from Georgetown University Law Center, graduating cum laude. He is admitted to the bars of the District of Columbia, Virginia, and Hawaii (inactive). He is a member of the bars of the U.S. Supreme Court and numerous federal circuit and district courts. Aden has also authored numerous law review articles on constitutional law and civil rights, and is a frequent media commentator.

March Bell

Served as Chief Counsel for Select Investigative Panel

March Bell recently served as Staff Director and Chief Counsel for the Select Investigative Panel. Bell also served as Senior Counsel for Trafficking in Persons in the Civil Rights Division of the U.S. Department of Justice. Bell has extensive professional experience in complex litigation and investigations into organized crime, terrorism, financial fraud, asset tracing, and human trafficking.

A graduate of Pepperdine Law School, Bell began his legal career as Counsel for the United States Senate Subcommittee on Security and Terrorism. He later went on to serve as Counsel for the U.S. House of Representatives Committee on Government Reform and Oversight. Throughout his career he has served in several positions with the U.S. Department of Justice.